5 O'CLOCK EXTRA A PUSHING YOUNG FORGER. HE IS OVERHAULED AFTER A LONG PERIOD OF SUCCESS.

Frank W. Clarke, alias Colt, a Crooked Gentle of Twenty-Six Years, Defies the Law of the Land Too Long—How His Scheme Was Worked and How the Victim—He Might Soon Have Retired on His Gains.

William F. Clark, alias William F. Colt, although only twenty-six years of age, is one of the most expert and successful forgers and confidence men that have been in the clutches of the police for many a year.

He was captured last Saturday night by Detective Sargent, Titus and McCarthy, of Inspector Byrnes's staff, after nearly three weeks of persistent hard work, and he now languishes in one of the strong cells at Police Headquarters.

Young Clark's daring financial schemes, or exploits, in the brief space of three months have netted him thousands of dollars in ready cash, while his victims are legion, and as his transactions kept growing larger and larger with each successful attempt, it is fair to presume that, if he had not fallen a victim to the officers of the law, he would be long have retired from active business.

It was less than three weeks ago that complaints were coming in to Inspector Byrnes from numerous merchants of a series of forged check swindles by which they lost large sums of money.

Clark was also provided with forged letters of introduction from one firm to another, and in that way gained the confidence of his victims from whom he pretended to purchase goods.

A few weeks ago he engaged passage on the French liner, the "Marseilles," and he and child, although he is unmarried, and received a cash difference from the agent of $400.

KILRAIN BREAKFASTS AND TALKS.

While His Wife Sits Admirably Opposite Her Bill Charmingly. After a good night's rest on American soil, Jake Kilrain, the big defender of the American prize ring, was found by an EVENING WORLD reporter partaking of a hearty breakfast in his room at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Kilrain was attired in a nobby, but not in the least vulgar, suit of English material, and looked the very picture of health. In his immaculate shirt front sparkled a six-carat diamond, with which he now and then toyed, as though proud in its possession.

Across his well-filled waistcoat was a heavy gold watch chain, exquisitely woven, and when asked the time he drew forth from one of his pockets a massive chronometer.

His wife, who sat opposite him, was a woman of about thirty, with dark hair and a pleasant expression. She was dressed in a simple, but elegant, manner.

After breakfast, Kilrain and his wife went to the office of the Metropolitan Hotel, where they were met by a number of reporters.

PAT DIVER'S CLAM-BAKE.

A BIG CROWD ALTHOUGH THE TICKETS DID COST $5 EACH.

A Fine Parade Before Going Down to New Dorp—There Was Politics in It, Too, and Every Man Carried a Bandanna Case—Mr. Diver Presented with a Beautiful Membership Badge of Gold.

The P. Diver Association clam-bake is on to-day. The club-room, in the flat front at Park row and the New Bowery was a busy scene this morning.

Five hundred members of the association and their invited guests met there and in the street below for the start. The tickets went like the proverbial hot cakes at $5 each, and each ticket holder received, besides his right of way to the clam-bake, a linen duster at $13 a dozen, an ecor chowder hat which were made expressly for the occasion by McGuire, the Bowers hatter, and a cane.

The Diver men are nothing if not intensely Democratic, and the canes were red, figured with diamonds, in the case of the pattern of Allen Granberry Thurman's famous bandanna. On each cane, too, were the portraits of Cleveland and Thurman.

The clam-bake was to be held at Burbank's, New Dorp, Staten Island. The party paraded from the Chatham square headquarters to the ferry and a picturesque body they made. They marched through New Bowery, Chambers street, Park row, Nassau and Broad streets, and filled one of the Staten Island ferries.

Bowling's band of sixteen fiddlers, and the officers of the association came next as follows: President, Richard G. Caselman; Vice-President, Adam Kammeter and Peter Meyer, and Secretaries T. J. O'Brien and Julius Warganz.

Admirer Ryan, Oakley and Dowling headed the occasion. Ex-Congressman Kennedy, James Ledwith, of the Legislature, and Dr. E. H. Freeman, of the Oak street square, Capt. Carpenter and McCullough; James Driscoll of the District Attorney's corps, and Nick Brown were also among the party.

Arrived at St. George the party took a special train for New Dorp. There they found that Burbank had prepared sumptuous tables for the occasion.

To begin with there were seventy-five barrels of clams and oysters and fresh, sweet, juicy, green corn, pulled from Burbank's own plantation.

The half-hundred pounds of chickens, fifty barrels of sweet potatoes and as many more of the Irish variety, 200 pounds of sheep-head, frog's legs, gals, sea bass, washish and tripe.

There were eight succulent and toothsome sucking pigs, browned and crisped in their own sweetness; a double trackload of watermelon to carry with and eat; and champagne wherewith to aid the digestion and brighten the wits of the merry-makers.

You may be sure that the broad chest of Adm. Ryan, Oakley and Dowling, who were the first to take the champagne, were not without their share of the good things.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Cheerful Contributions for the Giants' Memorial Bats.

The Giants will have those bats, and they will be handsome ones, too. The sum raised now amounts to $23.87, and it will double up rapidly as soon as the "chip in" subscription papers have had time to get around.

Let every New Yorker who takes an interest in the success of his team hurry in his subscription, small though it be, without delay. It is the pennies and dimes that mount up in a popular movement like this.

All contributions will be acknowledged in The Evening World immediately upon their receipt. The following are the latest which have come in:
